2019 990 Cover Letter

In February 2019, a leadership transition took place at Brother Wolf Animal Rescue. The organization was at a critical point and swift changes needed to be implemented to ensure sustainability for the future. With a commitment to transparency, Brother Wolf announced in spring 2019 that the organization was facing a one million dollar funding gap.

In order to regain financial stability, significant budget and staffing cuts were made, assets were sold, and three satellite locations were spun off into their own nonprofit organizations faster than originally planned. Brother Wolf focused on its roots of helping companion animals and did away with extraneous programs. The leadership team diligently worked through these steps over the course of 2019 and successfully reduced the funding gap by 55% by the end of that year.

We built a new leadership team, including a new financial management team, and a professional board of directors for effective governance. Substantial financial policies and procedures were implemented. This served us well during an IRS audit in August 2019, which went smoothly due to the improved financial management and accounting policies that had been put in place.

To ensure sustainability, we had to make the hard decision to cease the organization's sanctuary project in Leicester, NC. A certified public accountant accounted for the money given towards and spent on that project and did not find any improper use of funds. The project was operating at a deficit and could no longer be sustained by the organization. The property was listed for sale in 2019.

Additional notes of interest for the 2019 990:

- A merger took place with Friends for Life Forever Farm of Lake Toxaway, NC. Brother Wolf took in and cared for about 200 animals from that organization in late 2018 and the merger was processed in 2019.
- Brother Wolf's three satellite locations spun off into their own nonprofit organizations in early fall of 2019. Therefore, their expenses and revenue for over half of 2019 are included with the organization's totals as stated on the 990.
- Brother Wolf launched a low cost mobile spay and neuter clinic in November 2018, therefore increasing the organization's program service revenue. This program was financially sustainable in 2019, ending the year slightly above the goal of breaking even.
- We focused on paying down our debt and significantly increasing our cash flow stability. The organization's debt was reduced by 55% in 2019. Cash and cash equivalents were increased by 83%.

Brother Wolf Animal Rescue will come through this trying time. Even in this period of recovery and great change in 2019, the organization positively impacted the lives of over 9,000 animals! We're focusing all of our resources on our most impactful and most needed programs in order to best serve companion animals in Western North Carolina.

The animals are counting on us. Brother Wolf plays a critical role in the Western North Carolina region. We are the only nonprofit organization of our size and impact that focuses on Western North Carolina as a whole and builds programs to tackle animal homelessness throughout the region. Every week we visit overcrowded, rural shelters and take in animals so that we can help them continue their journey to finding their forever home. Every week our low cost mobile spay and neuter clinics address one of the most important root causes of animal overpopulation. Every week, thanks to our donors, fosters, volunteers, supporters and staff members, Brother Wolf saves animals' lives.

Thank you for being part of our recovery, our new beginning, and our exciting future. Together we're changing the world, one rescued animal at a time.
